

Subirana and economic development: high aspirations

By Pierre J. Henry

The Subirana number one priority is the development of its system of potable water to all families and households have access to this important service. Currently, there are deficits in the distribution of drinking water, due to the obsolescence of the water system.

With obtaining the required financing, through management of Rotary E-Club of Canada One, and coordination of the Rotary Club of El Progreso, this project will have a significant economic and social impact on the population, due to several factors:

1. Index of disease caused by contaminated water consumption will decrease.

2. Families do not spend more on transportation, visits and drug purchases in medical services in other cities.

3. Eliminating sources of contamination, cleaning water reservoirs

For there will be a multiplier effect, the villagers have been thinking about the organization of micro and small businesses: industrial, commercial and agricultural, with a training program for young entrepreneurs. Also the order of the village, Recreation Park, electrification of neighborhoods, putting electric lights, stands on the football field, etc.

The key measure is the delimitation of the village in residential, industrial, commercial and agricultural area.
